FIRE DESTROYS MILL

THE OLD DIEHL'S MILL IS A TOTAL WRECK BY FLAMES.

Loss Is Estimated at $16,000—Ten Thousand on Mill and $6,000 on Contents.

Fire of unknown origin Tuesday night destroyed the big flour mill, saw mill, cider press and other outbuildings of the New Oxford Milling Company, located on the Lincoln Highway, one mile west of New Oxford, causing a loss estimated at $16,000, the loss on the buildings and equipment being partly, and on the stock fully, insured. This property was known for years as the Diehl mill.

The buildings and equipment were owned by Harry A. Hoffman, of Hanover. The loss on them is about $10,000. The mill was doing a flourishing business, well stocked and had a capacity of forty barrels of flour a day. The loss of the flour and lumber will fall on Harry C. Stock, New Oxford, tenant of the mill and trading as the New Oxford Milling Company. His loss is estimated at $6,000.

The fire started in the flour mill, the blaze spreading with rapidity and soon the planing mill ignited. The flames were burning fiercely when the members of the New Oxford Fire Company arrived on the ground. The company does not have a steam engine and the blaze was fought with buckets of water, until the Gettysburg Fire Company, which responded to the call for aid, arrived with one steamer at 12:20 o'clock. The Gettysburg firemen soon had two streams playing on roofs of surrounding property, pumping the water from the Conewago Creek, and at 1 a. m., with both mills and a number of outbuildings almost completely destroyed the flames were under control.

The farm houses standing near by narrowly escaped destruction, being saved by the firemen and volunteers. The latter, a bucket brigade, kept water pouring on the roofs, which had ignited, until the firemen arrived. These houses belonged to Mrs. Kate Diehl, her farm being tenanted by Earl Colestock, and Mrs. Ezra Miller, with John Gebhart as tenant. In one of the buildings at the mill there were fifty chickens, all of which were saved. An automobile was also taken safely out.

The flour mill was a large three-story stone building, 60 by 120 feet in dimensions. Miss Bess Stock, living nearby, discovered the blaze, seeing the light on the windows of the mill. She quickly called the operator, Mrs. F. S. Smith, of the New Oxford Bell Telephone Company, who spread the alarm and summoned the fire companies. Between three and four hundred barrels of flour, 500 bushels of wheat and 800 bushels of corn were among the losses sustained by Mr. Stock.

Williams Grove Park Sold.

Williams Grove, a tract of land along the Yellow Breeches creek in Cumberland county, was sold to Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Richwine, of Cleveland, Ohio, formerly of Harrisburg, for a consideration said to be around $21,000. A deed conveying the land to R. E. Richwine and wife, Alva May Richwine, was recorded in Carlisle last week, which takes the park out of the Williams family for the first time in nearly two hundred years. The grove was deeded to the Williams family, one hundred and ninety years ago, 42 years before the Revolutionary war, by agents of William Penn.

Dollings Co. Man Sentenced.

Dwight Harrison, former vice-president of the R. L. Dollings Company, of Ohio, was sentenced to three years in the penitentiary and fined $5,000 in County Criminal Court last Saturday. He was convicted several weeks ago of making false statements concerning the holdings of the Phoenix Portland Cement Company of Ohio which stock was being sold by the Dollings Company. Harrison is facing trial in the federal court in Ohio on an indictment charging misuse of the mails in connection with the sale of Dollings stock. The trial is scheduled to start the middle of January.

State Chamber of Commerce.

In order to make the first convention of its Mercantile Bureau a big success, the Pennsylvania State Chamber of Commerce has prepared an elaborate program for the business sessions which will be held in Pittsburgh at the William Penn Hotel, January 21 and 22. Invitations were issued to retail dealers in all parts of Pennsylvania and the responses received indicate a tremendous interest in the affair throughout the State, and a large attendance.

No Ads on State Highway.

Division and district engineers have been ordered to remove immediately from state highway routes all signs or advertising matter illegally placed within the legal limits of the highways. Under the law no advertising matter of any kind or direction signs erected either by individuals, association or municipalities may be placed on a state highway route and attention of the engineers had been called to violations of the law by candidates for office at the spring primaries.

Heavy Rains Cause Trouble.

Adams county in general was given a thorough house cleaning on Wednesday by the exceptionally heavy rains that washed over it. Streams in all parts of the county overflowed their banks, washing away some small culverts and doing considerable damage to the approaches at several of the large bridges.

Residents of Gettysburg report many flooded cellars with water varying from three inches to thirty-one. A number of furnace fires also had an evening out. At one business place the water found its way into the main floor in such volume that the fire engines were called upon to pump it out. Both engines were used and for about five hours pumped three streams before they could get ahead of the flood.

Preston Myers, of Five Points, however, had the most dangerous experience when the automobile in which he and his father were riding was caught in the high waters and was swept as they attempted to cross the Conewago Creek on the Carlisle pike near Hampton. As the car turned over, the father jumped to safety but the younger man, who was driving was not able to free himself and was carried into the deep water where he was stranded for four hours until a rescuing party could reach him.

New Lincoln Story.

"November the Nineteenth" is the title of the latest story by Elsie Singmaster in the February issue of the Pictorial Review. Around the incident of Lincoln on Nov. 19, 1863, riding a little scrawny horse to the National Cemetery, when he made his great speech, is woven a background of action which is a gem. It is a touch of that human nature that makes the whole world akin.

Game Commission Will Pay For Trapping and Caring For Native Quail.

The Game Commission of Pennsylvania has always believed that much more benefit will be derived by caring for our native game than by depending upon imported species of any kind. Along about 1917 our native Bobwhite quail were quite scarce in Pennsylvania. Dr. Kallbus, then Secretary of the Board, personally supervised large importations of quail from southern and middle western States with which the stock in Pennsylvania was replenished. These importations were quite successful, but as the population increased and more modern and intensive farming methods developed, in the course of which the old rail fence-row, grown up with weeds, briars, and grape-vines, was replaced by wire fences with both sides closely tilled; swamp areas were drained and tilled wherever possible; and good game cover generally was much reduced. Several hard winters later almost destroyed the quail regardless of efforts by sportsmen, landowners, and Game Protectors to supply shelters and feed. Later through the hunters license law funds became available for restocking and additional feeding work, but in the meantime all States in the Union had passed laws prohibiting quail exportations. As a result, the only place where Bobwhite quail could be secured legally was in old Mexico.

Since 1914, about 35,000 Bobwhite quail have been imported from the highlands of Mexico at prices from $15 per dozen up. At first the United States Government importation regulations were so arranged that birds could be brought in only during the fall of the year. This proved very unsatisfactory, as shipments frequently arrived in severe winter weather. The Game Commission of Pennsylvania aided in getting the importation regulations changed so quail could be imported during early spring months and released shortly after arrival. The Mexican Bobwhites were brought here in the springtime have done splendidly, having interbred with the native birds left in our covers, as well as raised coveys in sections where native quail had disappeared entirely. Practically all the Mexican quail secured were distributed throughout the lower half of the State, the best quail territory being stocked most liberally.

As a result of this stocking and feeding, supplemented by a concerted drive on vermin of all kinds, Pennsylvania this past fall had more quail than for 20 years past. We never had to resort to an entirely closed season to accomplish this, either. Conservationists generally agree that long closed seasons do not help to increase quail, and that where tried it has invariably proven disastrous instead of beneficial.

Last year quail importations from Mexico were prohibited under an embargo against exportations from that country, and no quail were shipped north last year. Since the embargo against quail exportations closed the source of supply diplomatic relations have been restored and it was hoped that quail would again be available for stocking purposes this spring. Even though lifted now, it will be too late to help the quail importers for this season.

Will Pay For Quail Trapped: The Game Commission, through its officers, sportsmen's organizations, boy scouts, landowners, and others has always and is now doing its best to feed quail during winter months and to kill vermin. The present supply of quail would not be possible had this work been neglected or had the entire State been entirely closed to the hunting of quail and the sportsmen taken no interest in their welfare. In addition to feeding, the Game Commission has always urged trapping quail and caring for them during the severe winter months, and then pair up and scatter the coveys in single pairs when springtime comes. In this way many birds that would have fallen prey to winter's snows or vermin are saved and the coveys scattered the following spring will produce far more birds than if not broken up.

While much of this work has been done in past without charge, this year the money that would have been used to buy quail from Mexico is to be devoted to taking better care of the birds we already have. While it is more sport to capture live quail and care for them than hunting for them with dog and gun, the Board of Game Commissioners authorized an offer of fifty cents (50c) each for every quail trapped uninjured between now and March 15th fed in captivity under suitable conditions, and turned over to the County Game Protector in the springtime to be released. The County Protector will intermix the coveys and release the birds in even, unrelated pairs wherever possible in the same section where they were trapped. Where there are more birds than needed for a given locality, some of them will be distributed where they are not sufficiently plentiful. By breaking up the coveys in this manner many more coveys of quail will be produced, as birds permitted to run together without being scattered do not increase properly. Game Protectors will gladly aid in trapping operations, and give advice for making cheap but very satisfactory traps for this purpose. Where desired, grain will also be supplied for feeding.

SETH E. GORDON, Executive Secretary.

HEALTH TALK.

In co-operation with the State Department of Health's educational campaign, Dr. George W. Norris, Professor of Clinical Medicine, School of Medicine, University of Pennsylvania, says:

"The saying that a man is as old as his arteries has been substantiated by experience. The steadily mounting death rate from diseases of the heart and kidneys is for the most part due to hardening of the arteries in these organs. Arteries once hardened cannot be restored any more than can the elasticity of rubber tubing be restored once the rubber has become dry and brittle.

Relieved of Catarrh Due to La Grippe

Thanks To PE-RU-NA

Mrs. Laura Berberich, over 70 years of age, 1205 Willow Ave., Hoboken, N. J., writes: "A severe attack of La Grippe left me with a hoarseness and slime in the head and throat. I had chronic catarrh. It grew worse. I could not lie down or sleep at night. I was always bothered by the slime, pain in the back and a terrible headache every morning.

Finally I bought a bottle of Pe-ru-na which was of great benefit. It gave me blood and strength. I have no pains in head or back, nor noises in the head. The slime has gone and I can sleep. My weight has increased. I am cheerful and happy, thanks to Pe-ru-na, which I shall always keep in the house and recommend to my friends."

For every form of catarrh Pe-ru-na meets the need. Coughs, Colds, Nasal Catarrh, Indigestion, Bowel disorders are all forms of catarrh.

Buy it any where in tablet or liquid form.

THE UNIVERSAL CAR

Looking Ahead

LAST Spring a total of 350,000 people were disappointed in not being able to obtain deliveries of Ford Cars and Trucks, as orders were placed faster than cars could be produced.

The demand for Ford Cars and Trucks this Spring will, according to all indications, be far greater than last Spring.

Winter buying has been increasing at a greater rate than ever before.

Actual retail deliveries the past 60 days totaled 308,170 Ford Cars and Trucks, an increase of 1,961 a day over a year ago.

Over 200,000 people have already ordered Ford products on our purchase plan, the majority of whom will take delivery in the Spring.

The above facts are given with the suggestion that you list your order promptly with a Ford dealer if you contemplate the purchase of a Ford Car or Truck for use this Spring or Summer and wish to avoid delay in delivery.

WEAK, WEARY WOMEN.

Learn the Cause of Daily Woes and End Them.

When the back aches and throbs. When housework is torture. When night brings no rest nor sleep.

When urinary disorders set in. Women's lot is a weary one. Doan's Kidney Pills are for weak kidneys.

Have proved their worth in Gettysburg. This is one Gettysburg woman's testimony.

Mrs. Ella Little, 20 Breckenridge St., says: "My kidneys were in a bad condition. I had a stiffness through my limbs, but it was backache that gave me the most trouble. Sharp pains darted through my back very often when I would be working around during the day. I suffered severely when I did any stooping. Dizziness annoyed me and I thought more than once I would fall over. I was run down and my nerves gave out altogether. Doan's Kidney Pills were recommended to me and I lost no time in getting some at the People's Drug Store. I was rid of the backache and dizzy spells and other signs of kidney complaint. My back and kidneys were put in proper condition, too."

Price 60c at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Little had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

Adams County 1923 Tree Planting Record.

Harrisburg, Pa., Jan. 17.—Figures compiled by the State Department of Forests and Waters show that 1,578 tree planters set out a total of 5,437,817 forest trees in Pennsylvania during 1923. Early reports show that most of these trees are growing well and in time they will produce fine lumber.

In Adams county nine tree planters set out 13,956 forest trees, and in Franklin county 33 owners of forest land planted a total of 30,411 forest trees. Allegheny county stood first among the 67 counties of the State, with 70 forest tree planters who set out a total of 379,614 trees. Berks county holds second place, with 112 forest tree planters, who planted 322,867 trees. An active movement has been started to plant one million forest trees in Berks county during 1924.

Secretary Stuart of the Department of Forests and Waters is pleased with the progress forest planting is making in Pennsylvania. During the banner year of 1923 more forest trees were planted by private owners of forest land than during any previous year in the history of forest tree planting in Pennsylvania. A larger number of trees would have been planted if the nurseries had been able to supply all demands. In spite of the nursery shortage, the output was more than 100 times greater than the total number of trees planted ten years ago.

The growth of forest tree planting by private owners of forest land during the last 14 years is shown in the following table:

Year	Number of Trees Planted
1910	66,374
1911	25,360
1912	66,834
1913	47,770
1914	108,685
1915	115,577
1916	1,471,875
1917	1,812,997
1918	2,186,899
1919	3,159,531
1920	2,543,374
1921	3,041,710
1922	3,670,621
1923	5,437,817

Total ..... 23,735,444
